Computer Studies	In this term, you will be learning about computer networks and the network of networks – the Internet. Activities are labelled ‘Year 7’ but it’s the same work. The lessons are still there behind the error message. Lesson 1: Computer networks and protocols. In this lesson, you will contemplate the number of internet connected devices on the planet and define a computer network. You will learn about the rules of communication (protocol) in simple terms and think about how data is transmitted across the internet. Go all the way through the video and then complete the quiz at the end of the lesson. Lesson 2: Networking hardware. In this lesson, you will explore the functionality of key hardware components found in a network such as cables, hubs, servers and routers. You will then use your knowledge of each component to build a series of increasingly complicated network diagrams. Start with the introductory quiz, then complete tasks 1, 2, 3 and 5 where you build different networks. Check your understanding of networks, with task 4 a fill in the blanks activity, and then complete the end of lesson quiz.
